MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

The New Zealand Society for Oncology was initiated to promote the exchange of new research and clinical developments and ideas in clinical oncology and cancer research.

Its key purpose is to bring together oncologists and cancer researchers. It is hoped this will both improve the quality of care and cancer research, and make each mutually supportive of the other.

It is also intended that it provides a network for development of clinical trials, experimental therapies and facilitates the testing of new scientific hypotheses.

This activity is focused through the annual meeting of the New Zealand Society for Oncology which encourages young researchers both in the scientific area and the clinical area.

Your membership is appreciated.
